About the Program and Speakers ...

In 2002, International Truck and Engine Corporation launched a redesigned V8 engine to replace its legendary 7.3L Power Stroke/T444E engine. With tougher emission laws to meet and ever-increasing customer requirements, the engineers began with a clean sheet of paper to design the next generation V8 engine. Hear the story as told by two of the key engineers responsible for designing, developing, and ultimately bringing the new 6.0L Power Stroke and VT 365 engines into production.

Jim Yan

Jim Yan, Ph. D., is the Director, Product Development, Center of Excellence for International Truck and Engine Corporation, Engine Engineering. Jim was responsible for the 6.0L V8 engine development, including emissions, combustion, performance, drivability, and NVH. Jim completed his doctorate degree from the University of Wisconsin and is a member of SAE.

Marty Hower

Marty Hower is the Manager, Engineering, Vee Business Unit for International Truck and Engine Corporation, Engine Engineering. Marty was responsible for the 6.0L V8 engine design and the engine's integration with the vehicle platform. Marty is a graduate of the University of Illinois and is a member of SAE.
