About the Program and Speaker:

Continuing with our energy theme this fall, we welcome Brent Damman from American Ag Fuels. American Ag Fuels is a seven million gallon per year multi-feedstock biodiesel processing facility located in Defiance, Ohio. Their strategy is to sell biodiesel, using existing fuel distributors, to various markets including public transportation, electric power utilities, farming operations, construction companies, marine markets, commercial trucking fleets and EPA clean air non-attainment zones.

Mr. Damman is the Principal Owner, COO and Plant Manager since 2004. Previously, he spent 14 years in local government as Asst. Engineer, City Planner, Building Commissioner, Zoning Administrator and the Energy Advisor. The we site is <http://www.americanagfuels.com/>
